

PRESIDENT PLEDGES STRICT ECONOMY IN ADMINISTRATION OF GOVERNMENTAL BUSINESS

Acknowledges It May Cost Him Loyalty of Some Politicians.

IS WILLING TO ASSUME THE RISK

Scores "Red Tape" and Confusion in Washington Today.

New York, N. Y., May 23.—Ruthless efficiency Washington, even at risk of offending certain classes of politicians, was the ideal set for himself by President Harding at an address delivered before the Academy of Political Science here today. "The government must be conducted on a strictly business basis," he said, adding that he well knew he would lose a good deal of the immediate loyalty on part of certain politicians. He scored confusion and red tape at Washington, declaring that the "humblest household, unless so conducted, will meet disaster."

"Stony hearted devotion and resolute courage" are needed to carry out the program, he said but insisted that his administration will combat the "existing inertia" at every point.

PREMIERS OF TWO COUNTRIES ABSENT FROM THEIR POSTS

Rumored Briand and Lloyd George Are Holding Conference—British Send More Troops To Silesia.

London, England, May 23.—Premier Briand, of France, and Prime Minister Lloyd George, of Great Britain, were absent from their usual haunts today. Likewise, the French ambassador to London could not be located, nor could the British ambassador to France be found in Paris.

Members of the four staffs professed ignorance of the whereabouts of their chiefs. At this period the absence of the four, at the height of the Upper Silesian controversy, gave rise to speculation.

Send a Conference.

With the airplane bringing London and Paris in close touch with each other, numerous rumors were abroad that the two premiers had slipped away to the French coast to reach an agreement to dispose of the troublesome Silesian problem.

FOUR BRITISH BATTALIONS UNDER ORDERS

London, England, May 23.—Four battalions of British soldiery will leave immediately for Upper Silesia, it was officially announced today by the War Office. These reinforcements will be drawn from among the troops along the Rhine. The battalions will help the Allied forces sent to preserve order until the result of the plebiscite is determined.

The fighting between the Germans and Poles is said to be mounting today, with the situation aggravated by the strict German blockade on freight. Food supplies are running short and property damage is said to be growing excessive, and also to have extended to the destruction of some of the most valuable mines in the district.

Little attempt has been made to push beyond the lines established by the Poles, and the Allied troops have not, to any great extent, participated in the recent fighting. The arrival of the four battalions of British troops is expected to have a great effect on the situation.

FRANCE TO HOLD GERMANY RESPONSIBLE FOR FIGHTING

Paris, France, May 23.—France holds Germany responsible for the fighting in Upper Silesia, it was semi-officially stated today. If the Allies do not act to hold up hostilities between the Germans and Poles, the situation will be serious, it was

SIINN FEINNERS BUSY IN BRITAIN OVER WEEK-END

Five Suspects Are Held In Connection With Outbreak—Cork Newspaper Men Attacked.

London, England, May 23.—Leaders of 200 Irish soldiers who rioted at Avelly yesterday, were arrested today and taken before their officers for strict examination. They looted hotels, smashed windows and held up motorists and pedestrians.

Other military forces suppressed the uprising.

Many Week-end Disorders.

London, England, May 23.—Immediate prosecution of five suspects, charged with being implicated in extensive Sinn Fein disorders in England over the week-end, has been ordered. Attacks centered on Teeside and Tyneside districts, and included the blowing up of water and light plants, and the burning of shipyards, haystacks and factories. 31 fires were burning simultaneously in one district.

Party of Four Newspaper Men Waylaid.

Cork, Ireland, May 23.—Sinn Feiners waylaid four men on the staff of the Cork Examiner, as they returned from their work this morning. One newspaper man had a leg blown off by a bomb explosion and the other three were wounded by pistol shots.

'Composite' Brings Bomb Arrest

By a composite photo-drawing police believe they have found the man who set off the Wall street bomb last September. The suspect, Giuseppe De Filippo (right), says he is innocent. The drawing (left) was made up from descriptions furnished by persons near the scene of the explosion.

WAR CRIMINALS TO GO ON TRIAL IN LEIPSIG TODAY

Leipzig, Germany, May 23.—The "little list" of alleged German war criminals was scheduled to go on trial today. British legal authorities, headed by Sir Ernest Pollock, solicitor general, arrived here to press the charges.

The defendants are all charged with alleged cruelties in German prison camps. Before court convened at 10:30, British and German attorneys conferred on the procedure to be used. British said they were convinced the Germans intended to make an honest effort to reach a just decision.

Washington, D. C., May 23.—Developments recently reported in the Yap situation lead administration officials to believe agreements will soon be reached between the United States, Japan and other Allied nations satisfactory to a settlement.

FIRE DAMAGES

St. Marys, O. May 23.—Fire originating from a bonfire in the rear of the building occupied by the St. Marys Press, did damage estimated to be about $7000 before it was put under control late Saturday morning according to reports received here.

Mme. Curie At White House

Mme. Curie, famous Paris scientist, who gave radium to the world, was snapped with President Harding at White House, just after the president had presented her with a gram of radium, worth $100,000, the gift of American women.

PRESIDENT PASSES IN REVIEW OF ROUGH CASKETS OF DEAD SOLDIER HEROES

New York, May 23.—There was a review of the nation's hero war dead by President Harding here today. While the band played a solemn dirge President Harding, with bowed head, walked slowly along the aisle lined by 5,212 rough caskets, containing the bodies of American soldiers brought from France.

The scene, a gloomy pier on the Hoboken water front, was very subdued as the chief executive passed down the ranks of the flag-covered coffins to the somber beat of muffled drums.

"A hundred thousand sorrows touch my heart," he said in his eulogy, "and I hear the admonitions ring there. This must not be. This must not be."

After the speech he placed a wreath on the coffin of Joseph Geiger of Hart, Michigan, a member of Company I, of the 125th Infantry, the first American soldier killed on German soil. "In the name of the Republic," he said, "I bestow this tribute on the casket of the first American soldier to perish on enemy soil."

The Presidential yacht, the Mayflower, bearing President and Mrs. Harding, dropped anchor off the Hudson at 7:45 this morning. The President's party embarked through drizzling rain, after breakfasting

ANDREW SPENCER DIES IN WALTER REED HOSPITAL

Soldier Loses Game Battle In His Fight Against Death.

J. W. Spencer, 304 Turnpike avenue, received a telegram on Saturday last, informing him of the death of his son, Andrew J. Spencer, who was operated on in the Walter Reed Hospital, Washington, D. C.

Andrew Spencer enlisted in the service of his country shortly after the war broke out, and was stationed at a training camp in Texas.

During the flu epidemic he contracted the disease, which later developed into pneumonia.

When the armistice was signed he received his honorable discharge and returned home, where he remained but a short time, for the army life appealed to him, and he re-enlisted.

He was stationed at Camp Grant, where he contracted another case of pneumonia, which left a weak heart. He was confined to the camp hospital for several months.

January last he was transferred to the Walter Reed Hospital in a critical condition, in hopes of recovery, but all medical aid failed.

Andrew Spencer was born April 10, 1900, and died May 21st, 1921.

He is survived by his father, J. W. Spencer, of 304 Turnpike avenue, and by two sisters, Mrs. Clark Taylor, of Grapeland, and Miss Bessie Spencer, of Cleveland, Ohio.

His body will be taken on its arrival to the home of Miss Ada Baker at 304 Turnpike avenue.

The hour of his funeral will be announced later.

WAR DEPARTMENT GIVES OUT FIRST CLEARFIELD COUNTY SLACKER LIST; NATIONAL LEGION OFFICIALS APPROVE

Nat. Commander of American Legion To Aid In Erasing Names of Ex-Service Men.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 23.—

Assurances are coming into national headquarters of the American Legion from members in all parts of the country that even though their names have been erroneously included on lists of draft deserters they are willing to endure this temporary embarrassment in order that the real slackers may be held up to permanent shame.

Commander Makes Statement In some localities, Legion posts are checking the lists before publication. Relative to errors that have crept into the slacker lists, National Commander F. W. Galbraith, Jr., said:

"The American Legion sees no reason to regret the issuance and publication of the draft deserter lists. That publication has shown there are so many errors in these lists is of course to be regretted, but errors are inevitable in the handling of one hundred and sixty thousand names.

"Many of the men embarrassed by the erroneous inclusion of their names are ex-service men and Legion members with honorable records. Their embarrassment has been but temporary, however, as the errors have been quickly righted.

"Friends, relatives and neighbors know who served

RAIN STOPS BIG FOREST FIRE IN "KNOBS" REGION

Forester Dague and Crew Fight Stubborn Blaze Saturday and Sunday.

Last night's rain saved thousands of dollars to the State and private owners of forest lands. A big forest fire raged in the "Knobs" country Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Forester Dague took a large crew of men down to fight the fire Saturday afternoon. Additional fires were started on Lick Run and in the Rockton country yesterday, but last night's drenching rain put an end to the destroying element.

Forest fires are, in almost every instance, due to carelessness and this too despite the intensive educational campaign carried on by the State Forestry Department and the newspapers of the State.

TEN GALLON STILL FOUND BY POSSE AT BALD HILL

Bald Hill and the territory surrounding has not been as dry as it might be for some time and after considerable gum shoe work Constable Shultz and a posse of citizens located the cause of a part of the trouble at least. This proved to be an up-to-date illicit still which was discovered in the shanty of Christ Gurgel, a miner.

In addition to the still, which had a capacity of ten gallons per day, two barrels of grain mash were also found. Gurgel succeeded in making an escape, having been tipped off as to the proposed raid by several of his customers.

The District Attorney was notified of the find today and the county authorities will endeavor to land Gurgel.

SATURDAY BRUSH FIRE THREATENS CURWENSVILLE

Chemicals Stop Blaze Before It Reaches Italian Homes.

A fire alarm sounded on the whistle of the brick plant at Curwensville about 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, took the fire fighters of the village out on the run, together with the fire apparatus, to combat a brush fire creeping upon several houses of the Hartshorn road.

Children, playing in the neighborhood, are believed to have set fire to the brush piles near houses occupied by several families of Italians. It was not necessary to throw water on the blaze, chemicals doing the work. If allowed to have gone undetected a few minutes later it is said a serious conflagration might have resulted.

The little mining town of Bald Hill down in Girard township, has a mysterious disappearance on its hands and one that is commencing to excite considerable interest and discussion in the community.

Names of Men From Clearfield Co. Local Bd. For Div. No. 3—Technically Listed As Evaders—Are Published.

For the first time the War Department today officially authorized the publishing of the first list of names of men registered in Clearfield county, Pennsylvania, and technically listed and qualified as draft evaders. The list was issued at Fort Howard, Maryland, headquarters of the Corps in which this state is located. There are said to be, all told, approximately 10,000 names of Pennsylvania registrants listed as draft evaders.

The names of only those technically qualified as evaders in Clearfield County Local Board for Division No. 3 were released for publication today. The other two lists are expected to follow this week.

The publication of this list is by official request of the United States Government, which takes the position that any man who has failed to straighten out his draft board record is constructively guilty of military desertion, regardless of where or how he may have served. The official list may contain names of some who served gallantly during the war, but whose names are still carried as delinquents, due to their failure to correct the record. To guard against this every effort is being made to check the War Department's listing and, as far as possible to examine into each case.

SABBATH "SHINDIG" BRINGS POLICE-BREAK UP PARTY

Revelers Face Burgess Chase On Disorderly Conduct Charge.

Mr. and Mrs. Nick Pratt, of Dairy street, in an effort to drive dull care away, invited a number of their neighbors and friends to an old-fashioned "shindig" or dance at their place in the old Douglass Hotel building last evening. About 9 o'clock the dance was in full swing, and a crowd of revelers carrying for a dark ether, way from the Pratt home.

Some of the neighbors down that way can get by with a dance any one of six days in the week, but when it comes to crowding an extra one in on Sunday evening, they considered that going a "leedle bit too strong."

The upshot of the matter was that the police were notified and Chief Hill and Patrolman Kough were soon on the ground and proceeded to break up the party forthwith, much to the disgust of the dancers. The party answered to Burgess Chase this morning for their alleged disorderly conduct on the Lord's day,

FINEST HORSES USED IN GOVERNMENT STUD

Troubadour of Willowmoor Won Ribbon at Chicago Show.

Morgan Stallion McMahon Was Made Champion at Vermont 1920 Fair—Excellent Records Made by Other Animals.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

The United States Department of Agriculture's stud of Morgan horses at Middlebury, Vt., contains excellent specimens of the Morgan breed. This fact was demonstrated when Troubadour of Willowmoor, the premier stallion at the farm, won the Morgan stallion class at the 1919 international show at Chicago. At the 1920 Vermont state fair the Morgan stallion McMahon was made champion. McMahon is sired by Scotland, a stallion bred by the late Joseph Battell and for the past several years owned by the Department of Agriculture. Scotland and McMahon's dam, Beauty, are both sired by General Gates, for many years at the head of the government farm stud. McMahon is a full brother of Heather, winner of the mare championship at the Vermont state fair in 1916. The Reserve champion at the last Vermont state fair was sired by Bennington, who was bred and has since remained the property of the government. Bennington is also sired by General Gates and out of a mare purchased in Kentucky. Castor, a gelding bred by the United States Morgan horse farm, is sired

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS CURWENSVILLE

Chris Gardlock returned home last week from a two weeks' visit with his two sons, Paul and William Gardlock, at Warren, Pa. While in that city he called upon other Curwensville people who have located in that city, and found them all well and getting on nicely, all of them having employment.

Mr. Fisher, who resides on North Walnut street, has purchased the Hiram Leech homestead, located on corner of Scofield street and Susquehanna avenue, South Side, from Mrs. Chris Gardlock, he paying $1800 for the same.

Mr. Fred McKenzie, who sold out his pool room interests lately, is now engaged as a traveling salesman for the American Tobacco company of Pittsburgh, his territory being confined to Clearfield county, with headquarters at Curwensville.

Mrs. Ed. Benson and children, who spent last week with relatives and old acquaintances on a farm near Luthersburg, returned home Saturday evening. They enjoyed their outing immensely, especially the youngsters.

Miss Agnes Gardlock, who is about closing a term of school in Montana, is expected to arrive home shortly to prepare for her marriage which will take place in July, with Mr. Ellis Kester, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Kester, and who at present holds an important position with the DuPont Powder company at Valley Falls.

Prof. Grant Norris, the newly elected principal of the borough schools, was a Curwensville visitor one day during the latter part of last week. While here he met the members of the school board and assisted them in choosing a gentleman who will act as assistant principal.

So far as can be ascertained nearly all arrangements for the proper observance of Memorial Day, 1921, in Curwensville has been completed. There will be the usual parade consisting of civic and fraternal Societies, Sunday schools, firemen, war veterans, etc. After the parade the people are invited to wend their way to Oak Hill cemetery, where the second part of the program will be observed. Just who will have the honor of delivering the oration over the mounds of the soldier dead has not as yet been fully determined but it is expected that District Attorney Arnold, who has been invited to do that honor, will be here. A band concert is scheduled to take place at the bank corner during the evening hour, and a dance in the Legion Hall at the same time. A game of base ball is also looked for the afternoon.

Everything is in readiness for the Alumni banquet to be held Tuesday evening in the Presbyterian church, after the Commencement exercises are over. Mr. Samuel P. Bressler will be the toast master, and as such will be supported by a splendid program. Owing to the large crowd expected the Alumni are urged to go to the church immediately after the Commencement so arrangements can be made for all. The church will be beautifully decorated and will make a fine scene, and to the strain of music, the Alumni, headed by the Seniors of 1921, will march to their places at the banquet table. It will be the one big event of the school year at Curwensville.

SOME ADVICE TO FAIR VOTERS.

Over in Pittsburgh the other day, Mrs. J. O. Miller, chairman of the Pennsylvania League of Women Voters, gave some mighty good advice to her constituents, who gathered to hear the words of wisdom fall from her lips.

"Get out and vote in the primaries, and see that we get some good, clean candidates who will not bow to the bosses nor have to thank themselves for their election", she urged the women voters. "And after you've voted you'll have to guard against the counting out of a good candidate by crooked politicians. There should be a militant woman on every precinct voting board. Get your Christian, fighting women to guard the ballot".

Mrs. Miller was handing it out rather strong that day, but at that we believe she had the right idea. If several of the aforesaid "militants" were scattered throughout the borough on election day, to aid in safeguarding the ballot, we imagine they could make it mighty interesting for the mere man assigned for election duty. When it came to an argument in all probability he would have to "fade away".

A FORLORN HOPE.

There is little chance that either the New York State Attorney General or the Congressman from that State seeking Federal intervention will succeed in overthrowing Pennsylvania's State anthracite tax. The pitfalls which imperil this source of revenue for the State lie within this Commonwealth. One is the difficulty in prevailing upon the Supreme Court of the State to over-rule a former decision. The other is that there will be an exaggeration of the tax in coal prices that the public will demand its repeal.

The Pennsylvania anthracite tax is not a matter of interstate jurisdiction. It is not a tax on exports from the State or on any part to commerce between the States. The property involved in the levy and the process of production, the completed transaction which is the basis of the tax, are within the State limits, and there is no discrimination suggested by the law as between the interests of citizens of this State and of others. Minnesota has a similar form of tax on its iron ore production which is to be attacked in a case now in the course of preparation.—Philadelphia Evening Bulletin.

THE SALVATION ARMY.

The Salvation Army, truly named "The Army Never Demobilized" is beginning to be given just and due credit from government officials for the good work it is accomplishing. When one stops to consider the perseverance with which the Salvation Army workers stick to their tasks, through thick and thin; that they perform their duties receiving in return a mere pittance, barely enough to hold body and soul together, it is to be wondered that their worth has not been recognized in more glowing terms ere this.

In a recent letter to Commander Evangeline Booth, of the Salvation Army. Secretary of Labor James J. Davis, said:

"I want to congratulate you on the splendid record of achievement made by the Salvation Army. I have learned with interest of your organization in eight hundred and thirty-nine cities and towns of the country and of your congregation of twenty million. Yours is a practical Christianity. You are preaching the doctrine of law and order, of thrift, both in the spiritual and material sense, and a better understanding of the brotherhood of man. You are rendering a great service through your free employment bureaus throughout the country and the reports reaching the Department of Labor of your finding employment hourly for thousands of deserving people are most gratifying. It is a practical relief that does not bear the stigma of charity and it is administered in a most efficient manner.

"I know in your present campaign for funds you will have the support of working men and women of America regardless of creed, wealth or color."

WILSON COLLEGE GIRLS HAVE FUN WITH EDISON'S LIST OF QUESTIONS.

That college girls better posted on non-technical subjects than the average male student, and that they boast a real sense of humor as well, has just been demonstrated here by members of the senior class at Wilson College. An informal examination including twenty of the famous Edison questions was given to the seniors and more than eighty per cent of them passed with ratings of seventy-five per cent or better.

If the senior class had not boasted so many humorists, this rating would have been even higher, but some of the girls just had to inject a little fun into the test. To the question, "What State is the largest?" no less than six replied: "Matrimony".

Other questions that inspired levity, together with some of the answers submitted, were as follows:

- Q.—From where do we get our dates?
A.—The University of Pennsylvania.
Q.—What is coke?
A.—Seven cents, including the war tax.
Q.—Who was Cleopatra?
Q.—Where do we get peanuts from?
A.—The Circus.
Q.—To what is the change in seasons due?
A.—Good team work on the part of the milliners and dress-makers.

What is perhaps the prize answer was submitted by one merry senior to the question, "What star is it that has recently been measured and found to be of enormous size?"

"Fatty Arbuckle", she replied.

BALD HILL STORE KEEPER SAID TO HAVE DISAPPEARED

"no defense" plea to the charge was sentenced by Judge Bell to pay a $500 fine and costs.

McSherry made some enemies in community and shortly after being fined received an anonymous letter threatening his life.

About four weeks ago McSherry disappeared from the place one night and has not been seen or heard of since. He is said to have started out to visit a friend living on a farm near the village. When he did not return his picture show and store was opened by some of his friends in the village and it was found that the days receipts from his business were in the till, his clothing and personal effects were all intact and every thing looked as though McSherry intended his absence to be only temporary.

It was thought for a time that the missing man was staying at the home of his former friend for a day or two and would return but such was not the case and nothing has happened since looking to a solving of the mystery of McSherry's disappearance.

E. J. Kelly, attorney for McSherry and the county authorities were notified this morning of the affair and an investigation of the man's disappearance will no doubt be ordered.

McSherry was wounded several times in the world war and received a pension from the British government and if he has simply "blown out" of the community it will be possible to trace him through his pension. Meanwhile foul play is being hinted at by the village gossip.

BIG SMASH IN OVERLAND PRICES

Rock bottom prices for Overland automobiles go into effect on June 1.

This announcement was made yesterday by the local branch manager of Willys-Overland products, following receipt of telegraphic advices from the Willys-Overland factory at Toledo announcing sweeping reduction to $695 on the Overland touring and $1,895 on the Willys-Knight touring. Other reductions in proportion.

Last September the price of the Overland was smashed from $1,035 to $895. June 1 the price is again cut, this time from $895 to $695, a sweeping reduction of $200 more.

The new price is $150 less than the lowest price for which this car was ever sold, and is made possible, according to John N. Willys, by the quantity sale of this car, which has already passed the 140,000 mark.

GOVERNOR SIGNS GASOLINE TAX BILL TODAY

Harrisburg, Pa., May 23.—Governor Sproul today signed the gasoline tax bill imposing a tax of 1 cent a gallon or fraction thereof of gasoline sold for any purpose, except for resale. Approximately $2,000,000 will be turned into the state treasury annual from this source of revenue, one half of which will be turned over to the counties for maintenance of highways.

The S business week of Governor Sproul's life started today. He must act on almost 500 bills before Friday. He has the alternative of disregarding any measure, which may then become a law without his signature. Majority of the bills before him are appropriation measures, including the general appropriation bill carrying $65,000,000 to defray the expense of conducting the states business.

BUSINESS AND TRADE

News of Local Interest
With Special Attention to Coal, Clay and Brick Trade

The German Government is prepared to pay at once $37,500,000 in gold marks or foreign credits on account of the $250,000,000 gold marks due the Reparation Commission by May 31. Thus begins a new phase of the reparation question, of which he is indeed a prophet who can foresee the end.

The mere movement of a quarter of a billion in gold and credits would be at any time a momentous event affecting the financial world. In this case the moved gold, if it constitutes the larger part of the month's payment, will strip the German paper issues of practically all their metal backing—though with nearly $18,000,000,000 of Reichsbank notes out this really should make little difference.

RETAIL TRADE

The volume of retail trade has been fairly satisfactory, at least for department stores and other large stores in the cities. The money value of sales has been somewhat less than last year but the physical volume of goods moved has remained approximately the same. It appears, however, that department stores and larger establishments are doing a greater proportion of the total business than hitherto, so that the smaller establishments are running somewhat behind. Continued public demand in spite of wage reductions, and at a time of considerable unemployment, appears to be accounted for by large popular savings of the past few years, and unsatisfied requirements in many of the staple lines.

CARELESS LIBERTY-BOND HOLDERS

It is inevitable that of the millions of subscribers to the Liberty Loans many should fail to exchange their temporary certificates for permanent coupon-bearing bonds. But making all allowance for neglect, ignorance and the American habit of procrastination, it is nevertheless surprising to learn that 7,471,171 temporary bonds amounting to $1,132,730,200 are still in the hands of owners who have not exchanged them and who are denied the use of $83,000,000 in interest awaiting them in the Treasury.

Time was when a United States bond issue of more than a billion dollars would have been notable as a Government loan. Yet here are bonds to that great amount in the possession mostly of small subscribers who are indifferent or uninformed as to the necessity of exchanging them to obtain their interest. The condition both holds up their income and adds to the burden of Treasury bookkeeping. In the case of holders unfamiliar with investment methods it naturally prejudices them and discourages future investment.

Any bank will effect the exchange and holders of the temporary certificates should avail themselves of the facility without further delay. Why cannot the Post Office also be empowered to supply permanent bonds for temporary certificates of small denominations? The embarrassment may be partially averted for future loans by providing definitive $50 and $100 bonds for delivery at the time of subscription.—New York World.

LAKE SEASON OPENS LATE BUT AUSPICIOUSLY

Although the tonnage of cargo coal dumped at Lake Erie ports this year up to May 1 has been the largest on record—1,176,508 tons, compared with 1,133,000 tons in 1919, the previous high record—the lake season is considered one of the slowest on record. Of the 22,408,000 tons of coal sent up the Lakes last season to American and Canadian ports, there remains in the hands of the American distributors on Lakes Superior and Michigan some 2,250,000 tons undelivered.

FACTORS FOR BETTER BUSINESS LACKING

"With no general departure from the policy of restricted buying," reports Dun's review, "a full reflection in the future, altho increasing, does business is still lacking. Confidence in the future, altho increasing, does not lead to vigorous action, the main attitude continuing one of hesitation. While unseasonably cool weather has tended to impede progress, other conditions are even more influential, most interests awaiting an extension of the industrial readjustments and a further lessening of price uncertainties."

FEW COAL CONTRACTS

"Bituminous which a year ago was selling at the mines from $6.25 to $7 was freely offered last week at from $2.25 to $3.50," reports the Wholesale Trade Association. "The wholesale market still remains actively competitive, and several cents decides the sale on spot coal. Very few contracts are being written. Trade in anthracite coal continues brisk with the demand exceeding the supply in egg and stove sizes, and with little demand for pea coal. The purchasing of anthracite now is gratifying."

HIDE MARKET FIRM

Estimates that from 200,000 to 250,000 domestic packer hides have been moved in the last fortnight indicates the extent of the improvement in that quarter. While some lessening of demand occurred last week, the market is in a closely sold-up condition and firmness in prices is maintained.

HE DREADED TO SEE NIGHT COME

Erie Man Was So Nervous He Couldn't Sleep—Suffered 15 Years—Tanlac Ends Troubles.

"There's bound to be something unusual about a medicine to do what Tanlac has done for me," said Andrew W. Bixby, of 917 W. 11th St., Erie, Penna., who is now in his seventy-seventh year.

"My appetite was awfully poor, even the little I managed to eat seemed to lump together in my stomach, causing me no end of trouble. I had a bitter disagreeable taste in my mouth almost continually. My liver and kidneys bothered me a great deal and I had such awful pains across the small of my back it nearly killed me in going up or down stairs. I just dreaded to see night come, for I was so nervous and miserable I couldn't sleep, and I would get up in the mornings feeling worse than when I went to bed. Then I had rheumatism, too, and the joints in my limbs would become stiff and sore and my feet would swell all up."

"I read so much about Tanlac I decided to give it a trial. I had taken four bottles now and have a splendid appetite and can eat just anything I want without my stomach bothering me a bit. My liver and kidneys are in fine order and those awful pains are completely gone from my back. The rheumatism is disappearing also, and the medicine is bringing me right around in every way. I am certainly thankful for the wonderful good Tanlac has done me and can't say enough for it."

Giving a graduation gift is a simple matter but the selection should have the most painstaking care. We anticipated this sort of thing months ago and our showing of gifts for the graduate is one of wide variety and of enchanting beauty.

Then there's the utilitarian side—they're all useful. Hardly a gift but what can be used in some way to make the coming event one of the epoch marks in the graduate's life.

Atmosphere's Height.

Some time ago the old question of the height of the atmosphere was revived, and a gentleman attached to the naval observatory at Washington suggested a unique method of solving it by observing with the naked eye the gradual disappearance of the blue color of the sky as darkness comes on. According to Rayleigh's theory, this color is due to reflection from minute particles in the upper layers of the sunset, and hence known as the depression atmosphere. Having noted the time of the sun below the horizon at the time the blue disappears, the observer can, it is thought, calculate the height of the illuminated particles overhead. From the mean of this scientist's observations this height comes out 130 miles.

JOY RIDE ENDS IN COURT—THREE FINED BY BURGESS

Joe Benedict, a Fourth Ward resident, the owner of an Overland car, after running afoul of the law and paying fines and costs totaling two or three hundred dollars, decided to get rid of the car as it proved entirely too expensive a luxury for a poor man.

Joe disposed of his car to another East End man named Sam Cobell. Sam started in a couple of weeks ago to master the difficulties of automobile driving and ownership. By Saturday last he had progressed far enough to warrant him inviting several of his friends to join him in a drive about the country side.

The friends, three in number, John Dorey, Bailey Shaw and Joe Benedict, the previous owner, motored to Curwensville with Sam and coming back to town they say, a jug of "White Mule," rolled up in a horse blanket, just naturally rolled into the car. They drove out along Woodland road and returned to town. Coming up Daisy street the car horned into the bank and killed the occupants out onto the street.

The police were notified and upon their arrival at the scene took all four men and the jug, less than half full, into custody. They were taken before Burgess Chase Saturday evening and after hearing their story the Burgess fined Cobell $48 and $3 costs, while Shaw and Dorey were assessed $10 fine and $3 costs. Benedict was allowed to escape a fine.

Cobell was then turned over to Constable Riley on information made by Chief Hitt charging him with running a car while intoxicated and he was held in $500 bail for Court.

LOCAL TEAM EASY WINNERS SATURDAY AT WOODLAND

Fans Get Their Money's Worth When They Witness One Round Battle Between Two Dusky Dames.

Linsensbiger's "Wild Cats" found easy picking at Woodland Saturday afternoon, when they jumped onto the brickmakers at the Mineral Springs grounds and trimmed them up nicely, to the tune of 19 to 4.

The game in itself was uninteresting after the "Wild Cats" forged so far to the front in the early innings but there was a little added attraction which furnished action for the assembled fans.

There is a row of "coon" shanties along one side of the ball grounds, and when the game was at its height a fierce fight started between two or three buxom brunette ladies quartered there.

These "ladies" are recent imports of the sunny south, having come to Clearfield personally conducted by a well known local officer of the law. This officer was at the ball game and we have it on the authority of a Woodland man, that the fight started because one of the girls said this officer was the handsomest man on the ball grounds. The second one couldn't see it that way, and the fight started. One lady wielded a paring knife, while the other was armed with the cross piece off the top of a cook stove. The knife wielder slashed the other one across the ear with the paring knife, but about this time the officer had dropped his score book and appearing on the scene, quickly quelled hostilities.

and who did not serve their country and newspapers have quickly made amends for unintentional injury at the hands of the government. Legion posts throughout the country stand ready to assist in clearing up any confusion. It has not been a source of bitterness to veterans to be temporarily classed with the slackers. At most it has been an annoying experience. The bitterness, the anger and shame are felt only by the real slackers, the men whose names are on the lists and will stay there.

"I believe that nine out of ten ex-service men are willing to be slightly and temporarily embarrassed if they feel that the slackers of the country are, at the same time, being rightfully and permanently embarrassed; the more especially since errors are being quickly cleared up by individuals and by the American Legion and similar organizations.

"As a matter of fact, publication of these lists gives the opportunity of forever clearing the names of the men who served which otherwise might through error be stained. Newspapers are doing a patriotic service in printing the lists, for it is of the utmost importance that the records be immediately and finally cleared. Even though unavoidable errors occur, the American Legion is firm in believing that the slacker lists must receive the full light of publicity. Only through publication can the innocent be completely and finally vindicated."
